New or old Jail, Court Finances, Turnpikes.

The Court of Claims a month or six weeks ago advertised for plans and specifications for a new jail for Franklin county. The Court met, a full bench being present, and after a strong fight by those against, and those in favor of a new jail, the Court adopted the new jail proposition, and immediately proceeded to examine plans submitted for the improvement. Six plans were presented each of them with a full statement by an architect. With one exception, all of them gave their opinion against expending anything upon the old jail, that it would be better for the court to erect a new one, as it would be the cheapest. Each of them had measured the old jail, and had examined it carefully and had experience in prison, some of them representing steel cage manufacturers, who did nothing but erect jails.

After a careful and full hearing by the Court, they proceeded to adopt plans and specifications, and without a dissenting voice, either in committee or in Court, the plan of McDonald & Bros., of Louisville, was selected. The Court had not examined the specifications of either, and previous to adjournment, a committee was selected to make such changes and alterations in these as they saw proper. After the adjournment of the Court, a communication appeared in the Capital, of this city, signed by the County Judge, charging ground against a new jail and contending for that which every architect, save one, condemned, and some of them positively refused to even make a plan for the improvement of the old jail. He first assailed the court for giving the committee authority to change anything, and stating that the plans adopted would cost the county more than $45,000. It had its effect in doing one thing if none other. Bids were opened on Monday last, and the following are the prices named by each contractor:

McDonald Bros, new jail, without using old material . . . $16,540.00
McDonald Bros, new jail, privilege of using old material . . . $14,647.00
Less 2 1/2 per cent. from each bid.
Mike Buckley, new jail, with privilege of using old jail material . . . $13,531.20
Haly Bros, new jail, with privilege of using stone in old jail . . . $12,957.60
W. S. Clark, new jail, with privilege of using old material . . . $17,700.00

It will be seen from the above that his Honor is a poor judge of the cost of building a jail. The highest bid being $17,700.00 and the lowest being $12,957.60, a little more than half his estimate.

All of the bids were rejected. Citizens of the county were present, and some of them made speeches against the new jail on the ground that the County was in such a poor financial condition as not to be able to bear the burden at present, but that it was better to improve the old jail at a cost of $5,000 and at the end of ten years we could then build a new one if found necessary.

In the meantime a motion was made (although the argument against the jail question was made mainly on the ground of the financial condition of the county) to appropriate $1,000 per mile to 2 1/2 miles of turnpike. It was amended to make it $1,250 to the mile. This did not produce a word about the financial condition of the county and was passed without any question being raised where the money was to come from. It was made payable out of the levies of 1885.

Then the Court adopted an order advertising for plans and specifications for the old jail, and on the 13th of June is the day to meet and determine this question. The advertising, and expenses of plans already adopted, and rejected, cost the county $500 and there is nothing to show for it $36 each day is expended to the magistrates.

To improve the old jail will save the walls, to erect a new jail will only add to the expense of removing the stone, and placing them in a more suitable place, as well as giving it an appearance different from what it now has. The steel caging in all of them will cost in proportion to the number of cells used whether placed in old or new jail.

If the people of this county are to pay for a jail, let it be the one that will answer for all time. If it is financially embarrassed let them drop all appropriations until the debt is paid and be credit established and then build a jail, and make turnpikes also.

The Court could not do a better thing than employ some competent attorney to aid the present efficient County Attorney to draft a revenue law for this county, and thereby save thousands of dollars that is now lost. To expend the money of the people in such an easy matter, but to collect and take care of it is something that the judicial and magisterial power of this county have never been a success at. Money is collected annually for the Sinking Fund that is absorbed in appropriations made for other purposes. Thus it is that the debt is not reduced, and will never be, unless a Court is selected that will not appropriate above their income.

This county appropriates a larger sum to turnpikes than most any other county. Yet her turnpikes are narrow, shallow, and badly made. No management pertains to them and no attention is given to them, except at the time when officers are to be elected. This is caused by the officers having free travel over the roads and the appointment of gate keepers. No dividend; poor roads; poor officers; poor management. This is the case. Would it be wise to sell all the county's interest in turnpikes? Would it be best to make them free? Would it be advisable to change the scheme and let the people vote on all appropriations made to turnpikes in place of the County Court, similar to school tax in districts? This latter plan may be best of all; and at the same time, would it be best to make those who receive the benefits of the turnpike, so far it may be applicable to a district, pay for such improvements? There are questions important and necessary to a tax ridden county where warrants are below par, and where tax for county purpose alone is now 1/2 cent on the dollar. In my next I will discuss the amount of revenue paid by each district in the county, based on the assessment of 1885.

If you want the freshest of the early vegetables at the lowest prices, go and see Mr. H. J. Hyde at the Market House corner. He keeps everything in the green grocery line and is selling his stock at figures far below those of any other house in the city.

Otis W. Snyder, the Lexington jeweler, is one of the most enterprising men in Central Kentucky, and is doing a large business in his line. He keeps constantly on hand a full line of jewelry and silverware, which he is selling at the lowest prices.

The commencement exercises of Eminence College will take place at Helm Hall, in that place, on Wednesday afternoon and evening. During the exercises Mrs. W. L. Collins, of this county, a graduate of the college, will read an original poem.

The graves of the Confederate soldiers in the cemetery will be decorated this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is requested that flowers be sent to the cemetery at that hour by all those who have prepared them for the occasion. Let the contributions be liberal.

Mr. Chas. W. Saffell, who for the past two years has been Deputy Post Master at this place, has resigned his position and will, after Monday, devote his entire attention to his garden farm and dairy. Mr. Full Taylor has been appointed to a clerkship in the office to supply the vacancy.

Several young men got on a time in South Frankfort a few days ago, and running across a couple from the country who were sweet on each other, one of the party represented that he was authorized to solemnize the rites of matrimony, and married the young people. Under the impression that the marriage was legal, the parties have since been living together. The authorities heard of the matter yesterday and arrested the bogus magistrate or preacher and his associates.

Pres. C. L. Loos, of Kentucky University, will preach at the Christian Church to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. Go and hear this eloquent man.

Little Howard Rodman, son of Mr. Thos. Rodman, Jr., while playing ball on Thursday, fell and cut his knee so very badly on a piece of bottle that he has to use crutches to get about.

In our last issue, for want of space, we failed to give an account of the public installation of the officers of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, which took place at the Opera House on Thursday evening of last week.

At eight o'clock the Grand Officers entered the hall, escorted by Mayville Commandery, No. 10, headed by the Mayville Band, and took seats on the stage. After music by the choir and reading of the scriptures and prayer by Rev. Sir G. C. Kelly, the installation ceremonies were conducted in elegant style by Very Eminent Sir W. LaRue Thomas, of Lexington, Grand Senior Warden of the Grand Encampment of the United States, assisted by Past Grand Commander Wm. Ryan, of Louisville, as Grand Marshal, and were very beautiful indeed. The ceremony was something new and different from that heretofore used, being interspersed with beautiful vocal music, which was furnished by Prof. Wayland Graham, who presided at the organ, and Misses Belle and Nellie Sanders, Annie Crutcher, Lydia Graham and Messrs. S. C. Bull and W. H. Averil, and appropriate passages of scripture were read by Rev. Sir G. C. Kelly.

When Grand Commander Saffell was presented for installation the audience applauded, and kept it up as each officer came up in turn, but when Sir J. W. Pruett, the Grand Junior Warden, faced the installing officer he was given a regular ovation by his friends in the audience. The old veteran, Sir L. D. Croninger, when he was presented to be installed for the fourteenth time as Grand Recorder, was also remembered by the audience, and the smile that he bestowed on the boys as he raised his chapeau was something immense.

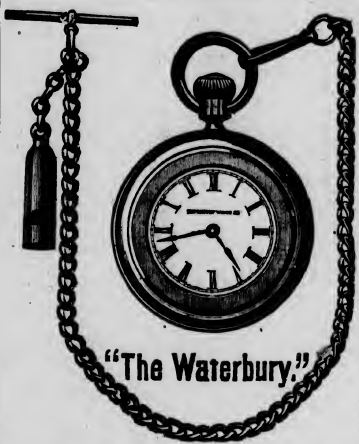

At the conclusion the audience, at the invitation of Sir Thomas, rose and joined the choir in singing the Long Meter Doxology, and were dismissed with benediction by Rev. Sir Kelly.

FRANKFORT, MAY 30, 1885.

Messrs. M. H. Cromwell and Moses Hayden, of the Jett Station neighborhood, were returning home from the city Saturday afternoon, and as they were going down the hill just this side the Old Depot, one side of the shafts dropped out of the clip that holds it to the axle, fell on the horse's heels and frightened him so that he ran away. Mr. Hayden was thrown out when the horse began to run and had his ankle badly sprained, but Mr. Cromwell held on to the reins and tried to stop him, and was thrown out by the buggy upsetting and was badly bruised up. Fortunately both escaped without any broken bones. The horse ran into a vehicle driven by a little son of Mr. Sam South's, who was thrown out and badly bruised up, and both vehicles demolished.

Base Ball.

The Frankfort Club will return Monday from their northern trip, and will play a game that afternoon at Capital Park with the Springfield nine, one of the strongest teams in the Inter-State League. The Frankforts have been greatly strengthened since their last game here, although they have been playing in hard luck since they left home. Bellman, the new catcher, is one of the best in this section, and Mr. F. E. Wood, editor of the Erie (Penn.) Sunday Graphic, telegraphs that McLaughlin, the new pitcher, is the best in the Inter-State League, so a first rate contest may be expected Monday.

The games this week, so far as heard from, are as follows: At Erie, Pennsylvania, Monday: Erie 11, Frankfort 3. On Tuesday, at same place: Erie, Frankfort 4.

At Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday, the game was prevented by rain. Thursday, Dayton 9, Frankfort 5.

Death of Mr. John Quarles.

Mr. John M. Quarles, an old and highly respected citizen of this county, died on Saturday, May 23d, at the residence of his brother, Mr. Ambrose Quarles, near the mouth of Elkhorn, after a lingering illness with cancer, in the 77th year of his age. He was a clever, kind-hearted gentleman, who was always ready to extend a helping hand to the needy, never turned a deaf ear to the cry of distress, and was universally popular with all who knew him. For nearly three quarters of a century he had lived in the house where he was born, greatly beloved by all his neighbors, among whom he had always endeavored to adjust all differences that might arise, and bring about a reconciliation between estranged parties. In 1874 he was elected Assessor of the county and held the position for four years, discharging the duties of the office promptly and faithfully.

The funeral took place at the old homestead and was attended by about five hundred of his neighbors and friends, and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground.

TO WATER CONSUMERS.

Louisville, Ky., May 19th, 1885. THE NEW WATER SERVICE PIPES NOW being laid in this city, are in many cases placed at a depth under the surface of sidewalks or ground, both in the street and private premises, not greater than eighteen (18) inches. Long experience in this latitude has established the fact that service water pipes laid at a depth of less than three (3) feet under ground are not safe against frost. When laid at a shallower depth they frequently freeze, burst, and let out the water, causing in the interest of both the water consumers, and the water department, notice is hereby given that water will not be turned on services laid at a shallower depth than three feet under ground. The people are also cautioned against the trouble in store for them, by the acts of plumbers who locate hydrants and other fixtures for drawing water, in violation and defiance of the Water Company's Rule No. 2, on page 2 of its Rules and Regulations. FRANKFORT WATER CO. By SAN A. MILLER, Pres. May 30-31

WRIT OF ELECTION.

WHEREAS JAMES G. CROCKETT, THE lawful and duly elected and qualified clerk of the Franklin County Court, has departed this life. It is therefore and hereby ordered that the sheriff of Franklin county open a poll at each and every voting place in the county on the 31st day of August, 1885, to fill the vacancy in the office of clerk of the County Court, caused by the death of said James G. Crockett, clerk aforesaid, and election will be held and the returns of the same to be made and done, as in such case made and provided by law. Given under my hand this 23d day of May, 1885. R. A. THOMPSON, Presiding Judge of the C. C.

In pursuance of the foregoing writ of election, J. W. Gaines, Sheriff of Franklin County, will, on the 31st day of August, 1885, that being the first Monday in August, 1885, proceed to open a poll at all the legal voting places in the county of Franklin. Said poll is to be opened and said election held to choose and elect some suitable person to fill the unexpired term of James G. Crockett, deceased late clerk of the Franklin County Court. Given under my hand this 23d day of May, 1885. 53-24 Sheriff of Franklin County.

From the Corporal.

From the Marine Barracks, Pensacola, Florida, Corporal Ben. Barger writes of the benefits of Brown's Iron Bitters in that malarious region. He says: "I have used several bottles and must say I am greatly benefited by using it. Several of my comrades use Brown's Iron Bitters, and you may rest assured they all think it is the greatest thing on earth." This kind of testimony comes from all quarters concerning Brown's Iron Bitters—the best tonic.

Mrs. Oscar Farmer and children, of Louisville, and Mrs. Mollie Current and children, of Warsaw, and Misses Garnett, of Owen county, are visiting friends and relatives in this section.

Those who depend on their daily labor for a support find it difficult to obtain employment, owing perhaps to the financial depression that seems to be prevailing over the country at this time.

The regular meetings of New South Benson Church, in order to suit the convenience of the pastor, have been changed from last Sunday and Saturday before to 2d Sunday and Saturday before in each month.

Within a radius of two miles, taking Bridgeport as a centre, there are three Sunday-schools with an average attendance of about 75 each Sabbath, being about 6 per cent. of the whole population.

How strange that people living in an age of science and with every facility for the advancement of gospel knowledge will remain inactive in matters pertaining to their souls' eternal welfare, teaching their children by example and precept that there is no reality in the Christian religion—that the matter of religion is all a myth.

We doubt not that there are children, and grown up people, too, for that matter, not only in this section, but all over the country, who have never attended a Sunday-school. We do not propose this Saturday the course of exorcism of the duty we owe to our children, ourselves, and above all to the God who created us. Is it not time, friends and neighbors, that we arouse from our indifference to this matter and put our shoulders to the wheel and assist in this glorious undertaking, leaving no stone unturned till all shall be engaged to refute the wiles of the wicked one?

Cancer Cured.

Mrs. Oliver Hardman, an old resident of Walton county, and a lady of cultured and pronounced ability, in reply of the treatment of cancer with Swift's Specific.

Over fifteen years ago a cancer made its appearance on my first toe, which I treated with plasters, and the core came out. The place healed up after some time, and my face was seemingly cured. I was, however, troubled again with more violence than ever. It gave me a great deal of pain. The former remedy seemed to do it good. Knowing the sense to run in the family, having had one sister to die with cancer, I became seriously apprehensive of my condition. It continued to increase in size and violence. I almost gave up all hope of ever being cured. The physicians advised the use of the knife and cauter. This was more than I could bear, and refused to have it operated upon in that way. All other remedies were used, but the cancer continued to grow worse. The pain was excruciating, and my life was a burden. In this extremity my son, Dr. Hardman, recommended me to try Swift's Specific. It was the last resort, but I was so prejudiced against the use of patent medicines, and especially this one, that I hesitated some time. At last I gave my consent, not believing there was any virtue in it. The first bottle only increased the size of the sore and the discharge from it, and hence did not inspire me with any hope. On taking the second bottle, however, I saw signs of improvement, and my faith strengthened just in proportion to that improvement. The spot on my face began to shrink, as well as the discharge, and hope sprang up in my heart. Could it be, I asked myself, that I was at last to be relieved of this scourge? It has given me so many dark hours in the past, that the idea of being well again almost overpowered me. There was a contest between hope and fear for a long time. It was a long night of weeping, but joy came with the morning. There is nothing left to mark the place but a small scar, and I feel that it is impossible for me to express my gratitude for this great deliverance. It is a wonderful medicine.

A Card.

To the Voters of Franklin County:

FRANKLIN COUNTY, Ky., SATURDAY, April 18th, 1885.
I am a candidate for clerk of the Franklin County court at the ensuing August election. A native of your county for sixty odd years, I have been identified with you, and I have during all these years faithfully performed every duty as a good citizen. In politics I am a Democrat, and I have no claim all through the war and ever since. If I should be elected, I pledge myself to merit the confidence and esteem of the people by a faithful discharge of the duties of the office. Having neither the means nor the inclination to degrade myself or the voters by resorting to the use of money or bribery, I shall depend entirely upon the people to elect me unimpaired by such means.

R. CAMPBELL STEELE.
